

CP

STUDY COMES TO AN END

Annette-Eglantine Coderre, 87, of Sherbrooke, Que., is a candidate for a doctorate in Canadian literature in the department of English studies at the University of Sherbrooke. Her thesis deals with the new face of women in the contemporary novel in English Canadian and Quebec literature since 1970. PhD is end to 30 years of study, she says.

OF THE EDUCATIONAL PHILOSOPHY
AND LOVING IT!

KEEP YOUR GOAL IN SIGHT YOU CAN MAKE IT.